

How the Gospels became the monster, the shadow side of Rome

The Three Crowns

AD 325 – Constantine in the spurious written donation to Pope Sylvester, today proven to be an invention, is basically presenting a case that St Peter as the Apostle of Jesus, and the one to whom Jesus gave the earthly kingdom, is reason enough for Rome to continue to Claim taxes for Christ. Hence was born the Corporation of the Apostle Peter.[1]

AD 1302 – Pope Boniface VIII, created the first Express Trust, called Unum Sanctum.

The Trust was set up to allow then lords and knights to go off to fight in the crusades. What they did was to hand over in Trust, the care of their estates and property to a trusted friend.

The new owner became the Trustee of the holding on behalf of the knight or lord , etc.

Upon return from Crusade many knights found that their trusted Trustee refused to hand the titles back, and then found the courts would back the new Trustee's claim over that of the knights.

The Holy See controls the courts through the Canon Law.

From this Trust would a further three Trusts take they're divine authority, the authority to make you an asset of the divine corporation.

If we expand the picture somewhat what we have in the creation of the Unum Sanctum is the mechanic by which the Holy See, through the Pope, was the whisperer of deeds to be done for Christ in the ears of Kings and to Knights to go off and kill in direct opposition to the Gospel message, thus the knight in following the call to kill given by the Pope, forfeits his land and titles to his Trustee. If the knight showed continued allegiance to the Pope during the campaigns, upon his return from the crusade would receive his property and land back from his appointed Trustee, but in order to keep his regained possessions he becomes a slave to the Holy See or the courts would shift ruling in the favour of the Trustee.

The Claim of Right that made up the Papal Bull had within it the claim that they own all the souls in all the world.

In this manner the Vatican did take control over land and rights and also titles across Europe. In this sense the rift between the Knights Templar and the Holy See was created as the Knights realised the trap and began to operate against the Holy See, and thus became a legitimate challenge to those families that made the Claim of Right over the entire world. This challenge was met by :

AD 1307 – Pope Clement, successor to Boniface, worked with Philip the Fair to destroy the Cabalistic Templars and thus the challenge to the Claim of Right made by the Holy See.

The Claim of Right and the first Express Trust named Unum Sanctum, is the core of the Holy Sees ownership of your soul. The Birth Certificate[2] is the Title to your soul and proof of ownership by the Holy See. This Trust is the first Crown.

In the first Claim of Right the Holy See had become the owner of your soul.

Having reduced powerful people into slaves to the Vatican through rulings of court the second Claim of Right was formed to give the Holy See ownership of your property.

AD 1455 – a Testamentary Trust is created under Pope Nicolas V, called Romanus Pontifex. This Trust had conveyed into it all the rights of the first Claim of Right the Holy See made upon your soul.

This Trust is the foundation to Monarchy, it is the Crown Trust to which all monarchs have Title, they do not have ownership, that resides with the first Claim of Right by the Holy See over your soul. Monarchs are administrators. This is the first Crown. This Crown removes your real estate rights.

AD 1481 – a third Claim of Right and second Trust is created under Pope Sixtus IV, called Aeterni Regis, Regis of course meaning Crown and Aeterni meaning eternal, the Eternal Crown this is the Third Crown making up the Unholy Trinity. This Crown removes your personal property rights
In the Incipit of this Bull, the Testament of the Holy See it says :

“For a perpetual remembrance.”

This is the second testamentary deed, Trust and will the second crown of the people which makes people slaves, this is the Trust over the Commonwealth, so not an English ideology at all. The current British structure is exactly a Holy See Trust.

AD 1531 – a third Trust was created called Convocation and relates to Baptism and thus your soul. This relates directly to the Commonwealth or as making up the common-wealth owned by the Holy See from the ownership of the souls of the masses. The idea of Commonwealth is far from an English creation, it is a creation of the Roman Empire.

The latter three Trusts make up the three Crowns depicted in the above image.

King Henry VIII in breaking with Rome created his own raft of Cestui Que Vic Trusts cemented in 1666 under Charles II. With the installing of Saxa Coburg and Gotha on the throne of Britain Rome began the road to retake power leading to the illegitimate Monarch that is Queen Elizabeth II, who has undone everything achieved by Elizabeth I, the daughter of Henry VIII. (The Tudors were backed by the House Stanley and House Pallavicini)

Vatican II finalised the Jesuit and thus the secret society combine takeover of the entire Vatican system allowing futurism to become the real script religion would follow. This includes Zionism and Islam.

The original idea of Monarchs tied to the Christian Canon Law was not originally a bad thing, but from 909 AD the Carolingians became the Monastery at Cluny. The West is controlled via this system therefore whomever controls Rome the Church, controls all in Christendom.
